

Rom 11:30

In past history the Gentiles (as a whole) were disobedient and have now received mercy.

Rom 11:31

In the present the Jews (as a whole) are disobedient so that at a future time they (as a whole) may receive mercy.

Rom 11:32

So God has caused both Gentiles and Jews to have historical periods when they were disobedient so that in his dealings with them as 'groups' he could demonstrate that both groups experience salvation as God being merciful.